

What to do when Old Man Winter Pays Radium a Visit...

Make the most of your winter vacation here in Radium Hot Springs by trying some of the activities below. From snowmobiling to relaxing in the hot springs, you will enjoy the time you spend here even when there is snow on the ground.

Get outside by downhill skiing at Panorama or Fairmont. Fairmont is perfect for skiing families or for adults who haven't been on the slopes in a while. Panorama is great for more experienced skiers who are looking for a challenge.

Ride a snowmobile with Toby Creek Adventures, starting in December depending on weather conditions. Snowmobiling is a truly unique experience; you'll see the mountains in a totally new way. Toby Creek Adventures offers a variety of tours to suit everyone, varying from one-hour to full-day tours you will find the perfect adventure for yourself.

Break out the fat-boy tires on your bike for some mountain biking. You can rent a bike at Panorama Mountain Resort and choose one of over 20 Nordic trails, or just take to the roads surrounding the resort.

If you can walk, you can snowshoe. Rent snowshoes at FarOut Gear Rentals and choose a snowshoeing trail, the Columbia Valley offers thousands of kilometres of snowshoeing trails. Just make sure to check conditions before leaving to make sure the trail will be safe.

After a day of adventuring in the snow, head down to the Radium Hot Springs or the Fairmont Hot Springs to warm yourself up. During the winter months, both pools are heated to 38 degrees Celsius, the perfect temperature to get your body relaxed.

Once you get back to the resort, borrow a DVD from the front-desk and head back to your room to get cozy for the night. Don't let Old Man Winter stop you from having fun, it is your vacation time after all.
